FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: What is considered a pre-existing condition?

A pre-existing condition is any illness, injury, or medical condition for which you received medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment within 180 days before the effective date of your policy. Common examples include: diabetes, heart disease, asthma, cancer (in treatment or remission), back problems, and high blood pressure that required medication adjustment in the past 180 days.

Q: Am I covered if I travel while pregnant?

Yes, but with limitations. Routine prenatal care and normal delivery are not covered. Unexpected pregnancy complications are covered up to the 26th week of pregnancy. We strongly recommend consulting your physician before traveling while pregnant and confirming your specific coverage with our customer service team.

Q: Does my policy cover adventure sports like skiing or scuba diving?

Standard policies do not cover injuries from extreme or adventure sports. If you plan to participate in skiing, snowboarding, scuba diving, bungee jumping, rock climbing, white-water rafting, or similar activities, you must purchase the Adventure Sports Rider as an add-on to your base policy. This rider must be purchased before departure.

Q: What happens if I need medical treatment in a country with very high costs?

Contact our Emergency Assistance line (+1-800-TRAVEL-1) before seeking non-emergency treatment. We can pre-authorize treatment, arrange direct billing with hospitals in many countries, and organize medical evacuation if the local facilities are inadequate. We have a global network of preferred medical providers in over 150 countries.

Q: My airline lost my luggage. What should I do?

Immediately before leaving the baggage claim area: (1) Report the loss to the airline baggage desk and obtain a written Property Irregularity Report (PIR) with a reference number. (2) Keep the PIR — you cannot file a claim without it. (3) If your bag is delayed 12+ hours, keep receipts for essential purchases (clothing, toiletries) up to $300. (4) If your bag is permanently lost, file a claim with both the airline and TravelAI Insurance, providing the PIR and a list of items with estimated values.

Q: My flight was cancelled. Can I claim for my hotel that night?

Yes, if the cancellation was caused by a covered reason (mechanical failure, severe weather, etc.) and resulted in a delay of 6+ hours. Keep your hotel receipt, and get written confirmation from the airline stating the reason and duration of the delay. Note: if the airline provides complimentary hotel accommodation, you cannot claim additionally from TravelAI Insurance for the same expense.

Q: How long does it take to get paid after I submit a claim?

Once we receive your complete claim with all required documentation, we review it within 10 business days. If additional information is needed, we will contact you within 5 business days of submission. After approval, payment is issued within 5 business days via bank transfer (ACH) or check.

Q: Can I extend my policy if my trip is longer than expected?

Yes, you can request a policy extension if your trip is extended due to circumstances beyond your control (medical emergency, natural disaster, carrier delay). Contact our customer service team before your original policy expiry date. Extensions are granted at our discretion and may require additional premium payment.
